WOODBURN, Woodford Co., June 13. According to your request, I took the cars in be spacious depot of the Lexington Railroad, road, which, under the superintendency of Mi Samuel Gill, has acquired a popularity which few roads in the country enjoy, and none better deserve, I was politely informed by the gentlemanly conductor, Mr. Taylor, that the next stepping place would be Spring Station, my point of destination. This station takes its nar roin a large stream that emerges from a high arch of rock near by, on the estate of Mr. Alex ander, and winding gracefully through shady plunges into the bowels of the earth, and is no ance once before upon the same gentleman's ands, accupying a deep "canon" of considerabl extent hefore earthing itself. These streams have never received any classic names, that I am aware of, but remind me of the Alpheus and Arethusa of Virgil, which are said to bear, whatever is thrown upon the bosom of one, int the tide of the other, and to have a mysterious saure life-current flows through both; and then, Alph, which sacred river ran Down to a sunless sea.

The beauty of this part of the country is marvelous to hehold; and, dotted as it is now, with the grain fields whitening for the harvest, and adows and woodlands of the deepest verdure there is an air of plenty, and a loveliness "o'er the smilling land" that is enchanting. Ilaving lu extrone vonth read many descriptions of rural enery and rural pleasures, I confess that som recollections came back upon me with a double force, as I realized the poetical trnth spread out efore me, and I could but exclaim that this is, ndeed, a "land flowing with nellk and honey," and every good thing, and that "God made this country" and with a lavish hand. The soft preeze of Spring has not, as yet, given place to "sultry Summer," but plays through the forests, whose boughs and leaves," thick as Vallam brosa," wave and dance in the mellow snulight, or imprints itself in gentle eddies upon the nod ding grain, and all Nature seems to re jolee in the tempered loveliness of this "leafy June." In riding to Woodburn I observed the prostrate form of many a "monreh of the wood," that marked the pathway of the hurricane which swept over this region some the power of the air, when it "marches In anger It may be lateresting to your readers that I should premise a short account of the estate at Woodburn, and some particulars I have gathered of the history of its hospitable proprietor. R. Atchison Alexander, Esq., is the eldest son of the late Robert Alexander, of Woodford, who for many years, was President of the old Bank of Kentucky. He was a Scotch gentleman o fortune and considerable literary and seleutifle attainments, whose memory is cherished by this as the kindest and most generous of men, and especially so by his son, with a fillal affection and reverence that is a beautiful trait in bis character. The father being heir to Sir Bobert Alexander, of Airdrie, in Scotland, walved his right of inheritance in favor of his son, who act of Parliament, and was educated at one of the Universities, Cambridge, I believe. Ou the death of his uncle, Sir Robert, and the attainment of his majority, he came into possession of his estate, and made the grands tour of Europe, which is considered a sine qua non for every Englishman of coudi-tion. He could never divest himself, however, of his early preferences for his Kentneky home and after some years spent in the best society of where, having purchased the homestead of his father, he has permanently located. Besides his Stotch estates, he has large interests in pieces at Laura Kean's theater, will be performed. In the Southern part of Kenancky he has made but it is upon Woodburn he has garnered the choicest affections of his heart; it was here that days, which years of absence and wide seas elaborate expenditure can do to beautify, is being done for lt; and a most generous hospitality awaits all who are drawn here by the shire; the still more costly stude of racers and land attached to Woodburn, and Mr. Alexander rents much pasture land beslde; there are about four bundred head of horses, besides the colts foaled this spring, at the head of which is the celebrated racer Lexington. These are principally brood mares any of the celebrated marcs of Mahomet Ali, and would make an Arab die of envy to see. A told me the value of these horses was something near $200,000. The sheep are principally Southdown, so much esteemed as mutton; and of the seven or eight hundred on this estate, the polite shepberd assures me there are none mamon, and I suppose he would add unclean; for he has a soverelgn contempt for other breeds. These flocks are constantly recruited by frequent and carefully selected importations from the "best blood" of England, and we doubt The lovers of Southdown mutton think it a venison as of very inferior flavor and not to be epicures at Walker's. These sheep find pur-chasers from all parts of the United States, and it is not loug since, quite a number of rams from these flocks were taken by California and Oregon breeders to those distant States.

But this is the day of the great cattle so which Mr. Alexander holds anunally, and I observe a number of well known cattle men on the ground. Mr. Thorne, of New York; Dr. Weisi er, of Lexington; Messrs. Bedford, of Bourbon Messrs. Duun, of Ohio; Col. Meredith, of Indi ana; Mr. Ferguson, of New York; besides, Mr. Jones, of the "Old Spirit;" Keene Richards, Esq.; llon, James B. Clay; John Clay, and many other gentlemen of racing and borine celebrity. The old Imported bulls were not sold, being held by a "reserved bid," which was not exceed

The Horse Fair.

Owing to the unpropitious appearance of the norming, the attendance of spectators was rather meagre at the Fair Grounds on vesterday; but with the exception of a slight sprinkle that was not enough to make the ladies take shelter, the day was delightful, and we are satisfied that those who failed to be present lost what would have compensated them for a good drenching. Most of the gentlemen about Louisville and vicluity, who are famed for their admiration of fine horses, were early on the ground, and we o - rved some from Lexington, Woodford, and Nashville, and we understood there were others from a greater distance, who were attracted by the very liberal premiums offered for competition, or with the expectation of witnessing such an exhibition of horse as only Kentucky can show.
In this they were not disappointed, as we shall presently tell; but we must say something in was one of the most exciting of the day. At last the blue ribbon was tied on a large and magniticent gray, belonging to Mrs. D. C. Wickliffe, of Lexington, and the spectators testified their approval of the verdict by prolonged applause. This animal would have made a fit steed for Mn-rat to have charged the Mamelnkes of Egypt upon; so proud and so dauntless he looked, and bore himself as If conscious of the admiration of exciting consultation, at least to the spectators, was held by the judges over the Carriage Geldings; and to give an idea of this ring, we will state that one pair of these horses sold just before they were exhibited for $1,000, and they got neither ribbon. Every pair of the eight or ten brought in were well matched, faultlessly roomed, and would have done credit to the Mayor of London.

The Butchers' ring excited some meriment, besides giving an opportunity for one of the horses to show that be could kick if called upon. No damage was done, however, and the best horse got the first premilnin; but we confess our irlain, who drove a strong sorrel cob, as if drl-As we were about leaving, the freight train As we were about feaving, the freight train from Lexington came up with a fresh snpply of stock, and we should not be surprised to see Alexander's celebrated Lexington, and others of his noted stud, or Mr. Buford's Soverelgn—who took the $1000 premium at St. Louis, last fall—on exhibition; these horses competed at St. Louis, and we heard it intimated in Woodford the other day, that the parties would like to have another trial.

No serious accident marred the pleasures of the day; and the only approach to one, was the escape of a horse with a buggy attached, who described a beautiful semi-cirele, and overturned the vehicle but was promptly secured.

RIDAY MORNING..... Stand by the Constitution. When fanaticism rules the hour, and self-interest predominates over love of country, and statesmen are ready to sacrifice the public good for local or temporary success, the calm, reflecting patriot may well despond; but it is at such time that men's souls are tried; and those who pass through the fiery ordeal unscathed become the nation's pride, the recipients of the plaudits and of the honors of a grateful people. The present is the crisis of the Democratic party; but it is more: it is a moment of peril to the institutions of our beloved country and of great danger to the liberties of the people .-At such a time, he may be accounted a traitor at heart who aids the enemies of the party, or encourages the plotters agalust the equally unworthy of public esteem, equally entitled to the execration of all patriots, is he who fails or refuses to discharge his duty, in refating erroneous opinions, in exposing the motives and pointing out the intentions of conepirators, in maintaining intact the faith of his ners, in standing up for the Constitution as it is, in giving aid and encouragement to the friends of the rights of the States and of the

It is absurd to call that man a friend to the Uni n who consents to a violation of the Constitution. He may not know it, but who does so, on the plea that it is only in some Doughs in Tennessee.

The Democracy of Tennessee will not support Mr. Douglas on his Squatter Soverelgmy platform. This lact is becoming more evident every day; there is a very large number of the most influential bemocrats in this county who will not support him under any circumstances. And if the I nnessee delegation submits to his nomination at Baltmore, they will be repudiated by the people, for the honest masses were never more united on any subject than they are in opposition to him and his measures. Who are Douglas' supporters in Tennessee? The most of them were born and educated in the North, and virtually sympathies with that wing of the party. And the tew Southern born noem who are for main, are trimmers and time-servers, unwords the omidence of any party.

The nomest masses, backed and sustained by the learning taileds of the State, are bitterly opposed to Douglas from patriotic principles.

And this opposition to him is canonized in the hearts of the people, and cannot be cradicated by the sycophamic whining of spoils-seeking asparants. As this feeling exists throughout the whole South, the Southern Delegates should impress it with great force on the minds of our Northern allies, and then, if they are not recklessly determined to break up the Democratic party, the great hope of the country, they will hesitate, will retreat from the mad attempt of forcing him and his odious dectrines agon us in violation of all fraternal feeling and obligations.—[Lebanon (Tenn.) Dem. nuimportant particular, paves the way to a dissolution of the Union: he consents to an act which, consummated, leaves no safety in the confederacy-which leaves the minority dependent on the magnaniuity and justice of a heave hearts. The Constitution is the Union. It can be violated in no respect without, sooner or later, making a diss lution inevitable. That man a our is the friend of the Union who plants hims if u, in the Constitution, and, despite the misrer's sentations of the knavish, and the misappreheusions of the izuorant, boldly opposes thos who would sell themselves for success and a grab at the spolls.

If squatter sovereignty be a correct doctrine. then the people of Kentucky who contributed their blood and their treasure to the acqui-itlon of the Territories of the United States. have no rights in those Territories. The inhabitants of them are sovereign, and may exclude the slaveholder from any participation in the indi-vidual benefits to be derived from them. The citizen of Indiana, whose possessions are in cattle or purles or horses, may, by a Territorial net, be invited to remove to the Territories, In which he and his property may be exempted from taxation; while "unfriendly legislation" may make it impossible for a Kentuckian, whose all is in slaves, to take up his residence and on joy his property in any such Territory. This may be just, fair, houorable, and equitable; but DEAR SIR;—I deem it my duly to select for the new of the Democratic National Convention in this city, on the 18th instant, a place of assembly, which shall, lirst, afterd the best attainable accommodations for the orderly transaction of the business of the Couvention, and which, secondly, shall afford reasonable accommodation for spectators. Of the two edifices suggested—namely, the Maryland Institute, by yourself, and the Front Street Thester by Mr. Cassard—it seems to me that the theater combines, in a relatively higher degree, on the whole, the requisite conditions. I have, therefore, to request that the theater may at once be eugaged and prepared. I will confer with you in regard to details, either personally or through the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Convention, Mr. McCluskey. we cannot see it in that light. If the Constitution g ves, as the whole people of the South coutend, the right to slave owners to remove with their property to the Terrritories, and to hold and use there, it cannot be surrendered, directly nor indirectly. Then the issue is upon the existence of such right; and those who, after mature consideration, believe the Constitution does guarantee this right to the citizens of the slaveholding States, must maintain it, at all hazards, and regardless of consequences. Mr. Douglas is the uthor of the Squatter Sovereignty dogma, and its representative per se. No man who is opposed to that doctrine can support him without a sacrifice of his convictions and a betrayal of the rights of the Southern States.

One other question remains. The Democracy believe that a slave owner not only has a right to remove with his property into any Territory be longing to the United States, but that he is entitled, under the Constitution of the United States to protection in the use and enjoyment of such property therein. The representative men of the Northern Democracy, the Buchanans, the Brights, the Biglers, the Cushings, and hundreds of others equally eminent and sound, concede this right; and, with a united South, contend that Congress—that the Federal Government - must see that such protection-protection to the persons and is given. The Supreme court of the United States have decided that the Federal Government has power to give this protection; and that the power is coupled with the duty of exercising it whenever it becomes necessary. Mr. Donglas denying that slavery exists in the Territories under the Constitution, denies also that Congress has any power to protect the owners of slaves in the use of this property. He affirms that they may be robbed by the Territorial Legislatures, or by armed brigands if such be; but Congress has no power to interfere for their protection .-Those who differ from him on these questions, involving constitutional rights which cannot be surrendered, and which he has declared shall not be ignored, would be less than men, unworths of liberty, fit for slaves, if they were to sup-

It is common with a certain class of charac terless adventurers to denounce those who thus stand upon the Constitution, upon the rights it gives, upon the guarantees it affords, and who in st upon a strict compliance with its provisions, as disunioniets. Themselves consplring against a Union in which their services are not appreciated, and, with the vain hope that something might turn up, giving the worthless influence of their names to the cause of revolution, they thus add hypocrisy and falschood, in order to make sure of the detestation of all good men, of whatever Thomas (Ga.) Herald of the 1st inst:

We were visited by a terrific hall-storm last Monday night, shattering the glass windows fronting the wind, in this place. Mr. F. Granade, a neighbor, two nalies from this place, brought to our office the next day at three o'clock a large bale-bneket full of hall-stones, some as large as wainuts, though the sun had shone hot all day. He said they laid twelve inches deep the next morning in some portions of his field. His corn and coroon are, of course, totally destroyed. least, the number of such men arc few; their character is well known: their motives are aprent: their influence is in exact proportion to their worth and patriotism; without respect at hone, or honor abroad, their condition might excite pity, but they must ever remain objects of abhorrence and contempt, serving but one useful purpose-to warn others to avoid the path they have chosen.

The path of honor is that of safety. We must stand by the Constitution; we must maintain the rights it guarantees; and thus we perpetuate the Umon. The Constitution is onr only hope in the Union; and that must be, above men, and despite prejudices, our first earc. We must guard it well. We must permit its infraction in no case. If we surrender one right from the South and the North, will the delegates from the South and the North, will the represen-tatives of the Democracy of the nation, who meet next Monday at Baltimore, romember that the fate of the party, the existence of the Union, the hopes of mankind, rest upon their fidelity to the Constitution of the United States!

The Missouri Contested Election Case, The Democracy of St. Louis met in mass meeting on Tuesday night to express their sense of the great wrong, which Mr. Anderson, of this State, aided in inflieting upon them, in the contested election case from that city. The Bulle tin says ten thousand persons were present, and with great spirit unanimously adopted the reso

Intions given below:

Noolved, That the citizens of the city and county of St. Lonis have heard with the utmost astonishment and palm of the decision of the House of Representatives of the United States in the case of the contested election of this district. Resolved, That it is the sense of this assemlse for fruil was never more abundant. The truck are laden down with blossoms, even the oldest Resolved, that it is the sense of this assemblage, that the decision which awards the seat to Mr. Blair over Mr. Barret is unsupported by the facts; at variance with justlee; a tyrannical and unserupulous exercise of the power of the majority; a contempt of the rights of the minority; and a reckless disregard of the rights of the people of this district.

Resolved, That, in this wanton act of power, we denrecate one of those high-handed out. and most churlish peach trees breaking out into we deprecate one of those high-handed out-rages which bring contempt upon the Govern-ment, cust a slur upon our institutions, and, by familiarizing the people with the arbitrary exer-cise of power, and that "might makes right," cise of power, and that "might makes right," pave the way to despotism.

Finalced, That we repel with seorn the imputation that our elections were carried by fraud, or that by fraudnlent votes or mob violence Mr. Barret was elected, and that we will hold to a fearful accountability at the polis Mr. Blair, who, guided by an unholy ambition, regardless of the fair fame of our city, has dared thus publicly to assail its character, relying solely for the success of his efforts upon the unscrupulousness of a partisan majority.

Readewd, Flat our thanks are hereby tendered to Hon. John A. Gilmer, Win. W. Boyce, Lucius J. Gartreil, and John W. Stevenson, members of the Committee of Elections, for their able defense of our rights in their minority report, and that in declaring as they did that the evidence of Blair was not sufficient to create a suspicion, much less to establish a presumption, against the integrity of the sitting member, Mr. Barret, they deserve the thanks of all honorable and high minded men.

Temporatic meetings have been held in Henry, Spencer and Campbell counties, recommending Douglas for the nomination at Baltimore. We do not know how these meetings were gotten up, but are of the opinion that they do not reflect the sentiments of the Democracy of those counties. Nine-tenths of the Democratic party in the Stafe are opposed to the nomination of Douglas. This is a fact, and it is useless to try to disguise it.—Georgetown (Ky.) Gazette.

In this I am disappointed; and I regret it.

Mr. President, in the heroic ages of the world men were dedied for the possession and exercise of some virtness—wisdom, truth, justice, magnanimity, courage. In Egypt, also, we know they denied beasts and repides; but even that bestlat people worshiped their idols on account of some supposed virtnes. It has been left for this day, for this country, for the Abolitonists of Massachmeetts, to dealy the incarnation of malice, mendacity, and cowardice.

Set, we do not intend to be guilty of aiding in the apotheosis of pusillamimity and menures. We do not intend to contribute, by any conduct on our part, to increase the devotees at the strine jane dry April Stf MOORE, Louisville. P. W. BRONCHITIS. - Many prevalent and fatally tending diseases are now comprehended under the term "Bronchitis;" in all of them the membrane of the air passages is more or less affected. They resemble consumption in symptoms and fatality, and In many cases actually end in "phtisis." The Peruvian Syrup is signally beneficial in such cases, and has snatched many from premature graves. DEATH OF JEDGE EWING.—Judge Ephriam M. Ewing, after a lingering illness of several years duration, departed this life on Monday night last, at an advanced age—the last of a talented and interesting family, who are now all numbered with the dead. A few short years ago they were all living in our nildet, surrounded by admiring friends. First, the wile and unother was called hence; then the closest son, Hou. Presley U. Ewing; then H. Q. Ewing, Esq. and then the honored head of the family. A brief but mournful history, and one that teaches a sadle-zon of the fraility of luman life. Judge Ewing, during his life, we believe, occupied many positions of honor in the public service, the last of which was a seat on the bench of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky.—[Bussellville Herald. received in the market, and having been purchased ince the recent decline in Silks, enables him to ofter treat inducements to purchasers. We have rarely seen hotter weather in this climate at any season of the year than we have lad in this region for the last week or ten days. But the country is not yet suffering for rain, and the hot weather time far has been of immense benefit to the growing crops, particularly the cotton. It is a general remark that such luxuriant crops were never before seen the last of May. With a few more days of this hot sun they will be suffering for rain, and a week or two more of dry weather would cause serious injury.

LOST, I. O. O. F. FUNERAL NOTICE.

The report implicating an American Consul-as an accomplice of the royal police in the re-covery of a refugee from an American merchant vessel in the harbor, I am happy to say, from an anthentic source, proves to be erroneous. He was applied to by the police to interfere in its behalf, but positively declined, as a thing wholly foreign to his official duties. The man was sur-rendered by the captain on his own responsi-bility. The officers and members of LORAINE LORIGIES. hand a large quantity of this highly valuable MANUER, and would respectfully solicitheir patronage.

In England, termany, and the Eastern States of this country, this kind of Manure harbeen used for many years with the greatest success. The leet way to use it is to ateen from 4 to 200 pounds per acre in the fall, and plow as deep as praclicable, for Trees. It is very profitable it eue two pounds in the fall in each bilt; for Fustors, Colery, &c., strew thinly in drills or furrows. One of the principal sixings with this Manure is in the hauling of it—the farmar being enabled to take at one load, in a two-horse wagon, the equiralent of twenty to twenty-fire loads of horse or common stable Manure.

"The Chief Ambassadors drew down the cur-The Reception in Baltimore and Phile-The reporters of the New York papers, who follow the Japanese in their progress, seem to be employed in doing their best to depreciate the reception given to the strangers in Baltimore and Philadelphia, with the view, perhaps, of showing that it is only in New York that these things can be done properly. The correspondent of the Tribune magnifies to the best of his shifty the few mupleasant circumstances connected with the reception here, and gives but faint praise to that which was really admirable. We make a few extracts from his account:

"It would be interesting, if it were possible, to get at the precise opinion which they have succeeded in forming of Baltimore. For my part it believe they regard it simply as the city of extravagant varilies and vulgarilies, and that not even the united floods of the seven steam freengines, which this evening flowed over Monument Square, could efface from their minds this disagreeable but tolerably just impression.

"The police arrangements at the depot were excellent, and forbade all possibility of disturbance or confusion. The Ambussadors were briefly welcomed by Mayor Swann, and then conducted to their carriages, in which they were conveyed directly to the Hall of the Maryland Institute, where the inevita le speeches and formalities were put upon them. The reporters of the New York papers, who interes were put upon them.

"Apart from the hordinate extent of the coute, it is fair to say that the arrangements were even better than could have been expected. Files of soldiers protected the carriages from intrusions, so that no repetition of the absurd femenstration at Washington, on the arrival of the Embassy, was possible. The crowd was kept in perfect order, and, throughout the day, so far as the people generally were concerned, there was no single indication of disorder. The subsequent disgraceful tunnults were created by those who intrude with authority. The procession moved uninterruptedly, though slowly. The public luterest steadily increased from the fluid of starting from the depot until the alighting at the tilmor flourse. I believe that no such outpouring of the masses was ever before known in Baltimore. In all the streets through which the procession passed, the houses, side-walks, lamp-posts, frees, and awains were covered with lookerson. The entire city was in a finiter of pocket handkerchiefs. As the carriages furned each new corner nothing was to be seen beyond but a measureless vista of agitated linen. In the square before the hotel the excitement was redoubled. The street multitude seemed perfectly wild; and the ladies who protruded themselves from the neighboring windows were utterly lost to any idea beyond that of spreading their muslin banners to the breeze with such earnestness and in such profision as to engender sad doubts as to their recovery, utuny future time, of their usual balance of mind. book to wrangling, then to open quarreling, and finally to Indiscriminate scalling. By some fortunate secident, the turmoil was quelled after fifteen minutes had been thus pleasantly occupied, before arriving at the livelier poins of where pistols and bowie knives came luto play. It was then possible to proceed with the dinner, at which about fifteen Japanese and some seventy Americans assisted."

The affray to which the correspondent alludes was sufficiently discreditable without the exaggerations and embelli-hunents which he has added. It did not last five minutes; and was suppressed as quickly as possible. It was contined entirely to the lower hall, where none of the Japanese were, and none of the principal members of the Embassy cither saw or heard it. The servants of the Endassy, who hung over the badustrades of the staircase to see the turnultuons scene below, appeared to enjoy it, and when given to understand that it was produced by 'too much drink,' laughed heartly.

Again the correspondent says:

'Presently, nottle was given that an exhibition of steam fire engines would take place in the Square. The baleony was instantly thronged, but not by the Japanese. Their share in the enjoyment was entirely a matter of secondary importance. Here, as elsewhere, it appears that the whole affair was a jubilee of the Baltimore city government and its friends, in which the anobsenre and Indifferent part. A small number of the Japanese, however, obtained positions from which the uperations of the machines were vielble, and scenned greatly interested; but even those few, yielding gradually to irresistible encoachments, soon withorew, and wandered aimlessly in the lack-ground.

"It was not long before a party of firemen mounted to the baleony with scaling-ladders, and, bringing their hose with them, invited some of the Japanese to take hold. This brought on the nuder officers, and among them Tommy, who "played away" for a turn with the Japanese nobility, and nothing dese would do. At last, one of the mass introduced to "Moonlight, Music. Love & Flowers." The Poet expressed his highest thea of rapture with the strung together the words at the head of that there and the repetition of them at this sensan of the cash any tions of eccledit as the cash any visions of eccledit the special to the inactination. XXXVIth CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION

Washington, June 13.—Senate.—Mr. Wilson said the Government has one in debt $500,000,000,000. It did not believe the counling importation would afford sufficient revenue for the requirements of the appropriations and pay the interest of the debt. He, therefore, advocated an increase of tariff to meet the contingencies.

Mr. Toombs rend the civil appropriation bill, with the amendments of the Senate Finance Committee, showing that every one made was to fulfill contracts and to carry our existing laws. The Representatives of the House appeared to fulfill contracts and to carry our existing laws. The Representatives of the House appeared to the economical, but by "housest" contractors they were carrying on a system of prolligacy in appropriating $4,000,000 for frandulent pensioners. Mr. Bigler said he did not like to hear such imputations cast on the Hepartment, or Senators who voted for the measure. He did not like the way the Senator spoke about it.

Mr. Toombs said he would give way for an explanation, but should not for a Senator to protest against it. In what he said he had disclaimed any Imputation on any Senator.

Mr. Bigler said he did protest.

Mr. Toombs replied that if he was not satisfied with the remarks, he could get satisfaction here or entiside the chamber. He was speaking of the Government, and made no persumal imputations. He continued to show that the Republicans were the friends of extravagame. They were deep in corruption in all the Legislatures of the North. God only knows what they would do it they got the power.
